Internet Protocol Address(es) ("IP Addresses"): (see attached Schedule B)

This Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into as of this day _____*1·25·2011*_____ by and between The MIT Press, a department of Massachusetts Institute of Technology ("MIT Press") and the institution identified above ("Customer"). This Agreement sets forth Customer's rights and obligations regarding access to and use of MIT CogNet™, the brain and cognitive science community online, (the "Licensed Material") currently located at: http://cognet.mit.edu (the "Website"). The Licensed Material and Website are provided by MIT Press and its suppliers, subject to Customer's agreement to the terms and conditions below.

By executing this Agreement, the Customer (""Customer"") accepts the following terms and conditions:

1. Scope of License. Member Institutions Use Restrictions.

Under this Agreement, Customer is granted a nonexclusive, revocable, nontransferable right and license to access and use MIT CogNet on the World Wide Web via the Customer's IP addresses and, in connection with the foregoing, to permit Customer's Authorized Users to access MIT CogNet and to make the uses described below.

The content of MIT CogNet is derived from many sources, including but not limited to MIT Press, other publishers, and individuals who post material of their own. Some of this material is copy-protected, and it is a violation of this license for any Authorized User to disable or assist others to disable such copy protection. With respect to any material included in CogNet that is not copy-protected, an Authorized User may:

- Download articles, chapters, and other similar quantities of such material for personal use, and archive similar quantities of such material on his/her own personal computer. Note: the purpose of this is to enable research-driven, as-needed downloading. This means (among other things) that bulk downloading is expressly forbidden, as is serial or cumulative downloading that results in the user reproducing on his or her computer, in effect, all or any substantial subset of any journal issue or book or other work contained on CogNet.

- Print out journal articles, chapters of books, and other similar quantities of such material for personal use. As above, bulk printing and serial printing that results in the user reproducing all or any substantial subset of any journal issue or book or other work contained on CogNet are not allowed.

- Send one copy of any article, chapter, and other similar quantity of material by email, hard copy, or fax to one person at another location for that individual's personal use as above. This means (among other things) that bulk forwarding is expressly forbidden, as is serial or cumulative forwarding that results in a third person's reproducing on his or her computer, in effect, all or any substantial subset of CogNet.

- Make traditional scholarly re-use of material within the bounds of fair use.

- Provide to any library via paper, fax, or digital transmission, a facsimile image (e.g., a PDF file) that is an exact representation of the print pages, or a printout of an electronic file, for interlibrary loan under CONTU guidelines.

- Provide a copy or copies from one Customer library to any other in digital form, for interlibrary loan under CONTU guidelines.

All other uses are prohibited. Without limitation, an Authorized User may not disseminate any such material outside his or her institution by any means, except as noted above; make multiple copies in either digital or paper form; or store any electronic file of such material on any intranet or other centrally accessible network or server, including but not limited to for "coursepack" purposes. Also please note that the above permissions to download, print out, and distribute copies, do not apply to materials (including, without limitation, monographs) that are copy-protected, and any attempt to disable copy-protection of such materials is a violation of the licenses herein granted.

"Authorized Users" are the employees, faculty, staff, and students officially affiliated with the Customer or patrons of the institution's library facilities. This includes occasional users who access MIT CogNet through stations physically located on the site and under the control and administration of the Customer. Authorized Users also includes persons affiliated with remote sites or campuses of the Customer that are administered from the Customer's site or campus, but not persons affiliated with remote teaching campuses that have separate administrative staffs. There are no contractual restrictions on the number of Authorized Users from one campus at any given time. All rights in CogNet content not specifically licensed for access, use or copying under this agreement are reserved by the respective copyright owners.

This Agreement does not permit use of MIT CogNet on campuses not affiliated with the Member Institutions listed on Schedule A. It does not allow sharing of this resource (beyond that outlined above) with other institutions in the same university system that are serviced by different administrative staffs. If MIT Press at any time determines in its sole discretion that the range of IP addresses claimed by the Member Institutions represents more than one campus, it may terminate this Agreement forthwith by notice to Customer.

The Customer is responsible for taking reasonable measures to prevent access by unauthorized persons to its IP addresses, and are responsible for terminating any unauthorized access of which they have actual notice or knowledge. The Customer will not be held responsible for uses of the online version of MIT CogNet that are contrary to the guidelines stated above, provided that such uses are without their express or implied consent, and provided that they promptly notify MIT Press of any such use of which they become aware and take all reasonable steps to terminate such activity. The Customer agrees to cooperate with MIT Press in any investigation of unauthorized access or use. MIT Press will not bring an action against an Authorized User without first consulting the Customer.

2. Disclaimer of Warranties—Limitation of Liability.

The disclaimers and limitations stated here apply not only to the Member Institutions as such but to all Authorized Users.

MIT PRESS MAKES NO WARRANTY OR REPRESENTATION, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING WITHOUT LIMITATION IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, WITH RESPECT TO MIT COGNET, WHICH ARE LICENSED "AS IS". IN NO EVENT WILL MIT PRESS OR ANY OTHER PARTY WHO HAS BEEN INVOLVED IN THE CREATION, PRODUCTION, OR DELIVERY OF MIT COGNET BE LIABLE

FOR SPECIAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, RELIANCE, INCIDENTAL, OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, INCLUDING LOSS OF DATA OR PROFITS OR FOR INABILITY TO USE MIT COGNET, TO ANY PARTY EVEN IF MIT PRESS OR SUCH OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES. IN NO EVENT SHALL MIT PRESS OR SUCH OTHER PARTY'S LIABILITY FOR ANY DAMAGES OR LOSS TO MEMBER INSTITUTIONS OR ANY OTHER PARTY EXCEED THE LICENSE FEE PAID BY MEMBER INSTITUTION FOR USE OF MIT COGNET.

Some states do not allow the exclusion of incidental or consequential damages, so the above exclusion may not apply to Member Institution.

The Licensor shall indemnify and hold Licensee and Authorized Users harmless for any losses, claims, damages, awards, penalties, or injuries incurred, including reasonable attorney's fees, which arise from any claim by any third party of an alleged infringement of copyright or any other property right arising out of the use of the Licensed Materials by the Licensee or any Authorized User. NO LIMITATION OF LIABILITY SET FORTH ELSEWHERE IN THIS AGREEMENT IS APPLICABLE TO THIS INDEMNIFICATION.

Each party shall indemnify and hold the other harmless for any losses, claims, damages, awards, penalties, or injuries incurred, including reasonable attorney's fees, which arise from any alleged breach of such indemnifying party's representations and warranties made under this Agreement, provided that the indemnifying party is promptly notified of any such claims.

The indemnifying party shall have the right to defend such claims at its own expense. The other party shall provide assistance in investigating and defending such claims as the indemnifying party may reasonably request and have the right to participate in the defense at its own expense.

3. Term & Termination

This Agreement shall be effective for the period of the Customer's paid subscription, provided that this signed document is received by MIT Press within sixty (60) days after MIT Press's receipt of payment. Payment terms shall be as provided on the applicable MIT CogNet invoice. This Agreement may be renewed upon renewal of the Customer's subscription, subject to further review by MIT Press.

In the event that Customer shall fail to perform any obligation under this Agreement, MIT Press may, in addition to any other remedies it may have under law, terminate the Agreement. Immediately after termination of the Agreement, Customer shall immediately discontinue all use of MIT CogNet.

4. General

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties hereto and supersedes all prior oral and written and all contemporaneous oral negotiations, commitments, and understandings. The various headings in this Agreement are informational only and do not limit the scope or content of the subject matter contained therein. No waiver, amendment, or modification of this Agreement shall be effective unless it is in writing and signed by the parties hereto. No purchase order shall supersede the terms of this Agreement.

The Customer may not assign or transfer its rights under this Agreement.

Should any provision of this Agreement be held to be void or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain in full force and effect to read and to be construed as if the void or unenforceable provisions were originally deleted.

MIT Press will provide Customer with perpetual rights to the six journals hosted withing MIT CogNet for the period of Customer's subscription, beginning in January 2001.
