This addendum covers all Single Site and Multiple Site/Consortium Sales Agreements signed prior to April 2009, including the existing Sales Agreement between American Chemical Society and California Digital Library (Licensee), which was signed on 01/01/2009, which includes by reference the ACS Terms and Conditions of Use document posted prior to May 2009, and adds ACS Symposium Series Online to the accepted terms and conditions within these documents. Licensee is a member of the University of California CDL consortium and is not required to execute a separate License Agreement.

Further, the Licensee agrees to the aforementioned terms and conditions including the applicable fees, licenses, assignments, access rights, authorized use, warranties and formats established by the ACS, and hereafter covering the ACS Symposium Series Online.

The following provisions are added to the ACS terms and conditions of use:

Definition: ACS Symposium Series Archive

The ACS Symposium Series Archive contains a total 1,278 books and 19,170 chapters inclusive of all ACS Symposium Series titles from 1974-2008 as well as the full Advances in Chemistry Series from 1950-1998. Access is perpetual upon payment.

Definition: ACS Symposium Series

Represents a given year of published books digitized and sold in annual collections from the year 2009 forward, each year being a unique saleable collection unto itself. Each year of the collection includes approximately 30 ACS Symposium Series titles and 450 chapters of published research. Access is perpetual upon payment.

The following clause is hereby added to Section 2 of the existing American Chemical Society/California Digital Library - CDL) agreement, which was signed in 01/01/2009.

Payment:

- The Licensee agrees to pay [redacted] for the ACS Symposium Series Archive starting in 2009.
- An annual maintenance fee of [redacted] will be charged for the ACS Symposium Series Archive, starting in 2012. Failure by the Licensee to submit the maintenance fee payment annually will result in a suspension in access to the archive content until payments are made current.
- The Licensee agrees to pay [redacted] for the ACS Symposium Series Current File for the year 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012.

Accepted: I have read and agree to adhere to and abide by all the terms and conditions of this Agreement.
