

MathSciNet[®] Consortium License Agreement

By this Agreement, the American Mathematical Society (AMS) grants a license to subscribe to MathSciNet on the Internet, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the following paragraphs. All of which are hereby agreed to between the AMS and the subscriber.

Subscriber Information: (Please type or print legibly.)

Subscriber: The Regents of the University of California, on behalf of the university library of its Berkeley campus
Address: 125 Doe Library, Campanile Way, Berkeley, CA 94720

Contact Person: UC Berkeley Licensing Team

Email:
[REDACTED]

If in a European Union (EU) country, please supply VAT identification number:
If a valid VAT # is not provided, the appropriate Value Added Tax rate will be applied to your order.

Consortium Information:

Consortium Participants and their IP Addresses: Use attachment if necessary. See use restrictions for Proxy Server IPs under Scope of License.

University of California, Office of the President

University of California Berkeley (including the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory)

University of California, Davis

University of California, Irvine

University of California, Los Angeles

University of California, Merced

University of California, Riverside

University of California, San Diego

University of California, Santa Barbara

University of California, Santa Cruz

This agreement is applicable only to those sites and respective IP addresses specifically listed above. Consortium participant sites may be academic or nonacademic. For academic institutions, different campuses are considered different sites even if they are within the same city. Departments or libraries of the same campus are considered part of the same site. For nonacademic institutions, sites are defined as geographically separate units, even if they are within the same city. Each branch, office, or laboratory is a different site.

Terms and Conditions

1. MathSciNet.

MathSciNet is the online version of the AMS publications Mathematical Reviews, from 1940 to present, and Current Mathematical Publications. The AMS reserves the right to add or delete MathSciNet content at any time.

2. Scope of License. Use Restrictions.

The license includes authorization of access by means of specific IP addresses of Consortium participants to allow site-wide online access by Authorized Users at Consortium participant sites via multiple connections. If a proxy server is being registered for access, the Subscriber agrees to maintain the security of the access by authenticating Authorized Users before allowing use of the proxy to any remote or on-site user. "Authorized users" are employees, faculty, staff, or students officially affiliated with a participant of this Consortium regardless of the physical location of such ions of a Consortium participant's library facilities. This license entitles the Authorized Users to access MathSciNet by multiple connections, and to make all use of MathSciNet as is consistent with United States copyright law, including its Fair Use Provisions. In addition, MathSciNet may be used for purposes of research, education or other non-commercial use as follows:

- a. make searches of MathSciNet;
- b. make one or more copies in hard copy form of the output of any search; such copies may not be sold. For the avoidance of doubt, classroom handouts shall include the distribution of a copy for teaching purposes to all individual Authorized Users in a class at Authorized Sites. Authorized Users may transmit to a third party in hard copy or electronically, minimal, insubstantial amounts of the output for personal use or scholarly, educational, or scientific research or professional use but in no case for resale or commercial purposes; and
- c. download search results to hard disk or diskette.. Authorized Users may transmit to a third party in hard copy or electronically, minimal, insubstantial amounts of the search results for personal use or scholarly, educational, or scientific research or professional use but in no case for resale or commercial purposes;
- d. Consortium participants and Authorized Users may use a reasonable portion of MathSciNet in the preparation of Course Packs or other educational materials, and in connection with specific courses of instruction offered by the University of California ("Course Reserves").

Authorized Users who do download and/or print search results must maintain all copyright and other notices, except as reasonably necessary to conduct text and data mining or computational research.

Downloading of substantial portions of the database is prohibited. Automated searching or downloading, by use of robots, spiders, crawlers, or otherwise, is also prohibited. However, all Authorized Users may make use of free tools provided by the AMS for batch retrieval of information from the database provided such use is in compliance with copyright statements and terms of use posted from time to time on MathSciNet.

Copies of individual reviews from Mathematical Reviews may be made and delivered in the context of inter-library loan in compliance with Section 108 of the Copyright Act of the U.S.

An Authorized User or Consortium participant may not make MathSciNet available to anyone other than another Authorized User, whether by telephone link or by permitting access through his or her terminal or computer, or by other similar or dissimilar means or arrangements. Each Consortium participant will make reasonable efforts to maintain security and monitor all use (including unauthorized use) from its respective site and to communicate the terms of the license to their Authorized Users.

Authorized Users will be bound by the limitations stated in any copyright statement or terms of use posted from time to time on MathSciNet, except to the extent (if any) that such provisions may be inconsistent with the express terms of this license.

Requests for waivers of any of the restrictions stated or referred to above may be considered on a case-by-case basis and should be addressed to the Executive Editor of Mathematical Reviews, mrexec@ams.org.

3. Access.

MathSciNet access is granted site-wide only to those IP addresses specifically listed in this agreement (numeric IP domain addresses). Consortium participants may request access for any number of IP addresses; however, usage must be restricted to a single site.

4. Term and Fees.

This Agreement will last through the end of the calendar year in which the subscription first becomes effective. This Agreement will remain in effect thereafter for successive calendar years so

u. The Consortium or the AMS may terminate this Agreement, effective on the next renewal date, by at least 30 days written notice to the other party.

The annual Consortium Database Fee and annual MathSciNet subscription fee may be raised by written notice to the Consortium Contact, given at least three months prior to the next succeeding renewal date. The Consortium, on or before the renewal date, must pay the fees for each year that this Agreement is renewed or the renewal will be invalid. The AMS is not responsible for the collection of any fees owed by Consortium participants to the Consortium or any refunds owed by the Consortium to the Consortium participants.

Consortium requests are evaluated and priced individually. A new Consortium agreement is required to add Consortium participants. New Consortium participants may not be granted MathSciNet access without explicit approval from the AMS.

A Consortium participant may withdraw at any time from the Consortium provided written notice of such withdrawal is given to the AMS. Withdrawal during the subscription year (January through December) will not entitle the Consortium or the participant to any fee rebate from the AMS.

5. Support.

MathSciNet includes online documentation. In addition, the AMS will provide Consortium participants (and individuals at those sites) with e-mail and/or telephone support service during AMS's normal business hours (Monday-Friday, 9:00am to 4:00 pm, ET). The email address for support questions is msn-support@ams.org; the telephone number for support is 800-321- 4267.

6. Copyright.

MathSciNet and its contents are subject to copyright, database protection, and other rights of the publisher (AMS), under the laws of the United States and the country of use.

Consortium participants acknowledge that they have no claim to ownership by reason of use of or access to MathSciNet.

7. Suspension or termination of access.

If either party believes that the other has materially breached any obligations under this Agreement, such party shall so notify the breaching party in writing. The breaching party shall have thirty (30) days from the receipt of notice to use all reasonable means to cure the alleged breach and to notify the non-breaching party in writing that cure has been effected. If the breach is not cured within the thirty (30) day period, the non-breaching party shall have the right to terminate the Agreement without further notice.

Any use of the MathSciNet database beyond the scope of the License or any fraudulent, abusive, or otherwise illegal activities may be grounds for termination of access.

8. Warranties, etc.

- a. The AMS has made and will make good faith efforts to ensure that MathSciNet is complete and accurate. However, the AMS does not warrant completeness or accuracy, and does not warrant that the Consortium participant's use of MathSciNet will be uninterrupted or error free, or that the results obtained will be useful or will satisfy the user's requirements.
- b. The AMS warrants that it is entitled to grant the licenses outlined in this Agreement and that use of MathSciNet by Authorized Users in accordance with the terms of this Agreement shall not infringe the copyright or other rights of any third party.
- c. The AMS warrants that MathSciNet complies with California and federal disabilities laws and regulations, and conform to the accessibility requirements of Web Accessibility Initiative, Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.1 at level AA. The AMS agrees to promptly respond to and resolve any complaint regarding accessibility of MathSciNet.
- d. The AMS agrees that no personally identifiable information, including but not limited to log-ins

Accesses of patrons accessing the system, saved searches, usernames and passwords, will be shared with third parties, except in response to a subpoena, court order, or other legal requirement. If the AMS is compelled by law or court order to disclose personally identifiable information of Authorized Users or patterns of use, the AMS shall provide the Consortium participants with adequate prior written notice as soon as is practicable, so that Consortium participants or Authorized Users may seek protective orders or other remedies. The AMS will notify Consortium Participants and Authorized Users as soon as is practicable if the AMS' systems are breached and the confidentiality of personally identifiable information is compromised.

- e. Except as above, MathSciNet makes no other warranties or representations of any kind, expressed or implied, including but not limited to warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose.
- f. Consortium participants and Authorized Users will be permitted to access MathSciNet at any time. The AMS will not be liable for any delay, down time, or other failure of performance, but will use reasonable efforts to correct any performance problem brought to its attention.
- g. Except with respect to express warranties, the AMS will not be responsible for incidental, consequential, or any other damages arising out of or in connection with the service or materials provided hereunder.
- h. Consortium Participants shall be responsible for their use of the MathSciNet. For the avoidance of doubt, Consortium Participants shall not be responsible for the acts of their Authorized Users. Consortium Participants shall use reasonable efforts to inform Authorized Users of the terms of the Agreement.

9. General.

- a. This Agreement together with Exhibit A, Acknowledgment of Consortium License Agreement Terms and Conditions, constitutes the entire agreement of the parties and supersedes any prior communication between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof. Only a written instrument signed by both parties (AMS and the Consortium Contact) may amend it. Without limitation of the foregoing, any purchase order or other instrument that the Consortium may issue for MathSciNet is for the Consortium participant's internal purposes only and will in no way modify, add to or subtract from the terms and conditions provided herein. If the AMS imposes an additional set of terms and conditions on Authorized Users, such terms and conditions shall not materially differ from this Agreement; in the event of any inconsistency between those terms and this Agreement, or in the event that those terms are more restrictive than the terms of this Agreement, the terms of this Agreement shall govern and prevail.
- b. Neither the Consortium nor any of its participants may assign, transfer, or sublicense any rights under this Agreement.
- c. The benefits of this Agreement, including but not limited to MathSciNet access, will be available only to Consortium participants that have executed an Acknowledgement of Consortium Subscription Agreement Terms and Conditions in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A.
- d. Neither party shall be liable in damages or have the right to terminate this Agreement for any delay or default in performing hereunder if such delay or default is caused by conditions beyond its control including, but not limited to Acts of God, Government restrictions (including the denial or cancellation of any export or other necessary license), wars, insurrections, labor strikes or other work stoppages, and/or any other cause beyond the reasonable control of the party whose performance is affected.
